

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2019-EAB-1043

Affirmed
Disqualification

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On September 3, 2019, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of an administrative decision concluding the employer discharged claimant, but not for misconduct (decision # 131311). The employer filed a timely request for hearing. On October 14, 2019 and October 23, 2019, ALJ Scott conducted a hearing, and on October 30, 2019 issued Order No. 19-UI-138951, concluding that claimant's discharge was for misconduct, and she was disqualified from receiving benefits effective August 11, 2019. On November 4, 2019, claimant filed an application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

EVIDENTIARY RULINGS: Claimant filed a timely objection to the ALJ's admission of Exhibit 3 into evidence. The record contains no evidence of a ruling on claimant's objection. Claimant's objection goes to the probative value or weight of the evidence, that is, how much significance Exhibit 3 should be given when considering that it was created and sent under different circumstances than the emails claimant created and sent. As the ALJ noted in Order No. 19-UI-138951, Exhibit 3 is not conclusive evidence of how claimant's emails were created, edited, and/or sent, and the exhibit was not treated as such. However, it is relevant and material to the issue before the ALJ and EAB, and was not unduly repetitious. Claimant's objection is therefore overruled.

The employer requested that EAB consider additional evidence when reaching a decision in this case. OAR 471-041-0090 provides that a party's additional evidence may be allowed and considered if the additional evidence is relevant and material to EAB's determination, and factors or circumstances beyond the employer's reasonable control prevented the employer from offering the additional evidence into the hearing record. The employer established that the additional evidence was not available until after the hearing ended. The employer did not establish relevance or materiality, however. The original message was sent during the October 23rd hearing, which, according to the audio recording of the hearing, was held between approximately 3:20 p.m. and 5:20 p.m. The rejected email message the employer sought to submit was sent from Microsoft Outlook the same day at 5:28 p.m., making it possible that the undeliverable email was sent during the hearing. However, the body of that email includes "Original Message Details" that state the "Created Date" of the original message was October 24, 2019 at 12:27:54 a.m. The "message hops" contained in the body of the undeliverable email notice also reference the same time period. An undeliverable original email sent in the early morning hours of October 24th would have no bearing on this case, or upon claimant's credibility as a witness. Because the document the employer submitted as additional evidence contains some internal contradictions, and there is no explanation or witness to indicate how the information contained on the undeliverable email notice should be interpreted, it is unclear that the undeliverable email notice is relevant or material to this case. For that reason, the employer has not shown that EAB may consider the additional evidence under OAR 471-041-0090. The document is therefore excluded from evidence.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND ANALYSIS: EAB reviewed the entire hearing record and claimant's written argument. On de novo review and pursuant to ORS 657.275(2), the order under review is adopted.

DECISION: Order No. 19-UI-138951 is affirmed.
