

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2019-EAB-1046

Affirmed
Late Request for Hearing Dismissed

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On August 9, 2019, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served, by mail, notice of an administrative decision concluding the employer discharged claimant, not for misconduct (decision # 72844). On August 29, 2019, decision # 72844 became final without the employer having filed a request for hearing. On October 10, 2019, the employer filed a late request for hearing. On October 15, 2019, the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) served notice of a hearing scheduled for October 29, 2019. On October 29, 2019, ALJ Seideman conducted a hearing and on October 30, 2019 issued Order No. 19-UI-138917, dismissing the request for hearing as untimely without a showing of good cause. On November 4, 2019, the employer filed an application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

FINDINGS OF FACT: (1) Although the Department mailed notice of decision # 72844 to the employer's representative at their address of record, and the notice was not returned as undeliverable to the Department, the employer's representative did not receive it. The decision was instead received by the employer. Decision # 72844 stated that to be timely, any appeal from the decision had to be filed by August 29, 2019.

(2) On September 5, 2019, the Department served the employer's representative, by mail, with notice of a charge relief denial decision. The September 5, 2019, decision stated that a discharge administrative decision had been served on August 9, 2019. The employer's representative received the charge relief denial decision on September 9, 2019. On September 17, 2019, the employer's representative filed an request for hearing on the charge relief denial decision.

(3) On September 17, 2019, the employer's representative learned that the employer had received decision # 72844. On October 10, 2019, the employer's representative filed a late request for hearing on decision # 72844.

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: The Employer's late request for hearing on decision # 72844 is dismissed.

ORS 657.269 provides that the Department's decisions become final unless a party files a request for hearing within 20 days after the date the decision is mailed. ORS 657.875 provides that the 20-day deadline may be extended a "reasonable time" upon a showing of "good cause." OAR 471-040-0010 (February 10, 2012) provides that "good cause" includes factors beyond an applicant's reasonable control or an excusable mistake, and defines "reasonable time" as seven days after those factors ceased to exist.

The employer asserted that they did not file a request for hearing until October 10, 2019, two months after decision # 72844 was served, because the employer and not the employer's representative received the decision, and the employer's representative did not become aware of decision # 72844 until September 17, 2019, when they spoke with the employer. However, the employer representative received the September 5, 2019 charge relief decision on September 9, 2019, and that decision stated that a discharge decision had been issued on August 9, 2019. On September 17, 2019, the employer's representative filed a timely request for hearing on the September 5, 2019 charge relief denial decision, but did not file a request for hearing on decision # 72844, although they were aware of decision # 72844 at that time. Assuming for the sake of argument that the employer did not become aware of # 72844 until September 17, 2019, and therefore had good cause for filing a late request for hearing on decision # 72844 within a seven-day reasonable time after that date, the employer waited to file their request for hearing until 20 days later. Because the employer waited more than seven days after the circumstances that prevented a timely filing ceased to exist, the employer therefore did not file their late request for hearing within a reasonable time as defined under OAR 471-040-0010. The employer's late request for hearing on decision # 72844 therefore is dismissed.

DECISION: Order No. 19-UI-138917 is affirmed.
