

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2020-EAB-0060

Affirmed
Disqualification

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On December 11, 2019, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of an administrative decision concluding claimant voluntarily left work without good cause (decision # 85220). Claimant filed a timely request for hearing. On January 22, 2020, ALJ Shoemake conducted a hearing, and on January 23, 2020 issued Order No. 20-UI-143197, affirming the Department’s decision. On January 25, 2020, claimant filed an application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

WRITTEN ARGUMENT: EAB considered claimant’s written argument in reaching this decision. In his written argument, claimant argued that he was not the only employee responsible for the “teardown” error that occurred on November 11, 2019, and that it was therefore unfair for the manager to take claimant’s next assignment away from claimant. Transcript at 5. However, even if claimant bore only part of the responsibility for the error that occurred on November 11, 2019, claimant did not show good cause to quit because the manager reprimanded him for the error, or took one of claimant’s assignments away from him. The manager had a right to address work performance issues with claimant, and the record does not show that the manager’s actions created the type of “oppressive situation” that constitutes good cause to quit.¹ The November 11 final incident did not create a grave situation for claimant such that he had no reasonable alternative but to quit work on November 12, 2019. Claimant therefore left work on November 12, 2019 without good cause.

Claimant also asserted in his written argument that the ALJ erred in excluding the documents claimant offered as exhibits at hearing. The ALJ excluded the documents because claimant did not provide them to the other parties before the hearing. Audio Record at 5:28 to 7:15. The Notice of Hearing served on the parties on January 10, 2020 stated that the documents enclosed with the notice were the only Employment Division*, 285 Or 541, 591 P2d 1381 (1979) (claimants need not “sacrifice all other than economic objectives and, for instance, endure racial, ethnic, or sexual slurs or personal abuse, for fear that abandoning an oppressive situation will disqualify the work from unemployment benefits”; the law “does not impose upon the employee the one-dimensional motivation of Adam Smith’s ‘economic man’”).

documents that would be considered at hearing unless a party provided copies of other documents to all the parties and to the ALJ at the Office of Administrative Hearings prior to the date of the hearing. Claimant was on notice of this requirement and did not send the documents to the employer before the hearing, and they were therefore correctly excluded. Had the documents been admitted as exhibits, however, it would not have changed the outcome of this decision.

EAB reviewed the entire hearing record. On de novo review and pursuant to ORS 657.275(2), the order under review is adopted.

DECISION: Order No. 20-UI-143197 is affirmed.
