

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2020-EAB-0104

Reversed & Remanded

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On April 11, 2019, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of an administrative decision concluding that claimant quit work without good cause and was disqualified from benefits effective May 21, 2017 (decision # 110526). On May 1, 2019, decision # 110526 became final without claimant having filed a timely request for hearing. On December 20, 2019, claimant filed a late request for hearing. On December 26, 2019, ALJ Kangas issued Order No. 19-UI-141750, dismissing claimant's late request for hearing subject to claimant's right to renew the request by responding to an appellant questionnaire by January 9, 2020. On January 14, 2020, claimant submitted a late response to the appellant questionnaire and a timely application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB). On February 4, 2019, ALJ Kangas mailed a letter stating that claimant's late response would not be considered. This matter is before EAB based upon claimant's January 14, 2020 timely application for review with EAB.

EVIDENTIARY MATTER: EAB has considered additional evidence when reaching this decision under OAR 471-041-0090(1) (May 13, 2019). The additional evidence is claimant's response to the appellant questionnaire, which has been marked as EAB Exhibit 1, and a copy provided to the parties with this decision. Any party that objects to our admitting EAB Exhibit 1 must submit such objection to this office in writing, setting forth the basis of the objection in writing, within ten days of our mailing this decision. OAR 471-041-0090(2). Unless such objection is received and sustained, the exhibit(s) will remain in the record.

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: Order No. 19-UI-141750 is set aside and this matter remanded.

ORS 657.269 provides that the Department's decisions become final unless a party files a request for hearing within 20 days after the date the decision is mailed. ORS 657.875 provides that the 20-day deadline may be extended a "reasonable time" upon a showing of "good cause." OAR 471-040-0010 (February 10, 2012) provides that "good cause" includes factors beyond an applicant's reasonable control or an excusable mistake, and defines "reasonable time" as seven days after those factors ceased to exist.

In his appellant questionnaire response, claimant wrote that he filed a late request for hearing in this case because “mail was noted that it was returned to post office so had no idea about notices.” EAB Exhibit 1. Claimant further wrote, “wasn’t told had not mail sent to me,” and “no, I didn’t know, didn’t get mail of notice.” EAB Exhibit 1. Department records show that notice of decision # 110526 was mailed to claimant at an address on 169th Avenue in Vancouver, while his current address is on Minnehaha Street.

Department records and claimant’s appellant questionnaire response suggest that he might have had good cause for filing a late request for hearing in this case because the administrative decision was not mailed to his address of record or was not delivered to him. However, additional evidence is necessary before a determination can be reached. For example, the record fails to show whether claimant notified the Department of an address change or whether he was obligated to do so when his address changed. Claimant’s questionnaire response suggests that claimant became aware that he had been denied benefits by the Department when his wages were garnished. However, the record does not show when that occurred, and fails to show whether claimant’s December 20th late request for hearing was filed within a seven-day “reasonable time” period after he found out that he was denied benefits and had to repay them.

Order No. 19-UI-141750 therefore is set aside, and this matter remanded to the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) for a hearing on the late request for hearing issue. Only if claimant establishes at the hearing that he had good cause for the late request for hearing and that he filed the late request within a reasonable time would he be entitled to a hearing on the merits of decision # 110526.

DECISION: Order No. 19-UI-141750 is set aside, and this matter remanded for further proceedings consistent with this order.

J. S. Cromwell and D. P. Hettle;
S. Alba, not participating.

DATE of Service: February 11, 2020

NOTE: The failure of any party to appear at the hearing on remand will not reinstate Order No. 19-UI-141750 or return this matter to EAB. Only a timely application for review of the subsequent order will cause this matter to return to EAB.
