

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2021-EAB-0185

Affirmed
Disqualification

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On January 21, 2021, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of an administrative decision concluding that claimant quit working for the employer with good cause and was not disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance benefits based on that work separation (decision # 113126). The employer filed a timely request for hearing. On March 9, 2021, ALJ Scott conducted a hearing and issued Order No. 21-UI-162371, reversing decision # 113126 by concluding that claimant quit work without good cause and was disqualified from receiving benefits effective June 28, 2020. On March 12, 2021, claimant filed an application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

WRITTEN ARGUMENT: Claimant's argument contained information that was not part of the hearing record, and did not show that factors or circumstances beyond claimant's reasonable control prevented him from offering the information during the hearing. Under ORS 657.275(2) and OAR 471-041-0090 (May 13, 2019), EAB considered only information received into evidence at the hearing when reaching this decision.

FINDINGS OF FACT: (1) The employer employed claimant as a valet attendant from March 13, 2019 until June 29, 2020.

(2) On April 8, 2020, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the employer temporarily laid off claimant.

(3) On June 28, 2020, the employer contacted claimant to return to work. On June 29, 2020, claimant informed the employer that he would not return to work and was voluntarily resigning. Claimant decided to quit working for the employer because he wanted to find work closer to his home and he wanted to find work as a writer.

(4) Claimant lived in Happy Valley, Oregon. The employer's workplace was located in downtown Portland, Oregon. The commute between claimant's home and the employer's workplace was 20 to 25 minutes by car. The commute between claimant's home and the employer's workplace was a little over an hour long if claimant took public transportation.

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: Claimant voluntarily left work without good cause.

A claimant who leaves work voluntarily is disqualified from the receipt of benefits unless they prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, that they had good cause for leaving work when they did. ORS 657.176(2)(c); Young v. Employment Department, 170 Or App 752, 13 P3d 1027 (2000). "Good cause . . . is such that a reasonable and prudent person of normal sensitivity, exercising ordinary common sense, would leave work." OAR 471-030-0038(4) (September 22, 2020). "[T]he reason must be of such gravity that the individual has no reasonable alternative but to leave work." OAR 471-030-0038(4). The standard is objective. McDowell v. Employment Department, 348 Or 605, 612, 236 P3d 722 (2010). A claimant who quits work must show that no reasonable and prudent person would have continued to work for their employer for an additional period of time.

Under OAR 471-030-0038(5)(b)(G), leaving work without good cause includes "[l]eaving work for self employment." Under OAR 471-030-0038(5)(b)(A), leaving suitable work to seek other work is not good cause for voluntarily quitting work. Factors to consider when determining whether work is "suitable" include "the degree of risk involved to the health, safety and morals of the individual, the physical fitness and prior training, experience and prior earnings of the individual, the length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in the customary occupation of the individual, the distance of the available work from the residence of the individual." ORS 657.190.

Claimant quit working for the employer because he wanted to find work closer to his home and he wanted to find work as a writer. It is unclear from claimant's testimony whether he intended to seek work as a self-employed writer or as a writer employed by an employer. To the extent claimant quit working for the employer to seek work as a self-employed writer, claimant quit work without good cause because, under OAR 471-030-0038(5)(b)(G), "[l]eaving work for self employment" constitutes leaving work without good cause.

To the extent claimant quit working for the employer to seek work as a writer employed by an employer, claimant did not establish good cause under OAR 471-030-0038(5)(b)(A). Applying the factors set forth under ORS 657.190, claimant's work for the employer as a valet attendant constituted suitable work. The record does not suggest, for example, that working as a valet attendant posed a significant risk to claimant's health or safety or that claimant lacked the physical fitness or training to perform the work adequately. And the record shows that claimant's work as a valet attendant was within an acceptable distance from his residence, given that claimant's commute was 20 to 25 minutes by car or a little over an hour long if claimant took public transportation. Accordingly, because claimant's work for the employer as a valet attendant was suitable work, under OAR 471-030-0038(5)(b)(A), claimant quit without good cause when he left that work to seek other work.

Claimant quit work without good cause and is disqualified from receiving benefits effective June 28, 2020.
