

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2021-EAB-0635

Reversed & Remanded

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On May 25, 2021, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served a Notice of Determination for Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) concluding that claimant was not entitled to receive PUA benefits effective December 6, 2020. Claimant filed a timely request for hearing. On July 22, 2021, ALJ Schmidt issued Order No. 21-UI-170887, concluding that claimant withdrew their request for a hearing and dismissing claimant's hearing request for that reason. On August 5, 2021, claimant filed an application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

EVIDENTIARY MATTER: EAB has considered additional evidence when reaching this decision under OAR 471-041-0090(1) (May 13, 2019). The additional evidence consists of the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) record of claimant's July 22, 2021 telephonic request to withdraw claimant's request for hearing, claimant's August 5, 2021 written argument, and their nephew's August 5, 2021 attestation, which have been marked as EAB Exhibit 1, EAB Exhibit 2, and EAB Exhibit 3, respectively, and a copy provided to the parties with this decision. Any party that objects to our admitting EAB Exhibits 1, 2, and 3 must submit such objection to this office in writing, setting forth the basis of the objection in writing, within ten days of our mailing this decision. OAR 471-041-0090(2). Unless such objection is received and sustained, the exhibits will remain in the record.

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: Order No. 21-UI-170887 is set aside and this matter remanded for a hearing on the merits of the May 25, 2021 administrative decision.

ORS 657.270(7)(a)(A) and OAR 471-040-0035(1) (August 1, 2004) allow an ALJ to dismiss a request for hearing when the request is withdrawn by the requesting party. When a party files an application for review of an ALJ's decision, EAB is required by statute to "perform de novo review on the record." ORS 657.275(2). The standard of review in unemployment insurance matters is the preponderance of the evidence standard; for EAB to affirm an ALJ's decision to allow a request for withdrawal, the record on review must therefore show that, more likely than not, the requesting party withdrew their request for hearing.

The order under review concluded, “Claimant withdrew the request for hearing.” Order No. 21-UI-170887 at 1. The preponderance of the evidence on the record does not support this conclusion.

The only indication in this case that claimant might have knowingly and voluntarily withdrawn their request for hearing on the Department’s PUA determination at issue is the OAH record of claimant’s July 22, 2021 telephonic request to withdraw their request for hearing (OAH document). EAB Exhibit 1. However, the ALJ did not admit the OAH document into the record as an exhibit and the document does not otherwise indicate what telephone number the claimant supposedly called, what claimant said when they called, what claimant was told by the representative they spoke to, and the context in which claimant’s purported request for withdrawal occurred. Meanwhile, claimant indicated in their August 5, 2021 statement that they never withdrew their request for a hearing during the approximately 30 hours of phone calls they had engaged in with the Department while seeking PUA benefits. EAB Exhibit 2. Claimant supported this assertion with the August 5, 2021 written attestation of their nephew who indicated that they were present, in a supporting role to claimant, for nearly all of the 30 hours of phone calls between claimant and the Department and “[a]t no time did [they] witness [claimant] requesting a dismissal of [their] PUA appeal.” EAB Exhibit 3. In light of claimant’s specific and corroborated statement that they never withdrew their request for hearing, and the lack of evidence concerning the manner in which claimant’s purported withdrawal occurred, the preponderance of the evidence supports the conclusion that claimant did not withdraw their request for hearing. On remand, the ALJ should conduct a hearing on the merits of the Department’s May 25, 2021 PUA determination.

DECISION: Order No. 21-UI-170887 is set aside, and this matter remanded for further proceedings consistent with this order.

D. Hettle and A. Steger-Bentz;
S. Alba, not participating.

DATE of Service: August 27, 2021

NOTE: The failure of any party to appear at the hearing on remand will not reinstate Order No. 21-UI-170887 or return this matter to EAB. Only a timely application for review of the subsequent order will cause this matter to return to EAB.
