

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2024-EAB-0774

Order No. 24-UI-271408 ~ Reversed
Late Request for Hearing Allowed ~ Merits Hearing Required
Order No. 24-UI-271423 ~ Reversed & Remanded

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: On May 21, 2021, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of an administrative decision concluding that claimant was not available for work during the weeks of March 21, 2021, through April 10, 2021 (weeks 12-21 through 14-21) and was therefore ineligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits for those weeks (decision # 92922). On June 10, 2021, decision # 92922 became final without claimant having filed a request for hearing. On March 31, 2022, the Department served notice of an administrative decision, based in part on decision # 92922, concluding that claimant received benefits to which she was not entitled and assessing an overpayment of $1,152 in regular unemployment insurance (regular UI) benefits and $900 in Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation (FPUC) benefits that claimant was required to repay to the Department (decision # 121548). On April 20, 2022, decision # 121548 became final without claimant having filed a request for hearing. On September 9, 2022, claimant filed a late request for hearing on each decision. On October 22, 2024, ALJ Frank conducted hearings on both matters, and on October 30, 2024, issued Order No. 24-UI-271408, dismissing claimant's request for hearing on decision # 92922 as late without good cause; and Order No. 24-UI-271423, allowing claimant's late request for hearing on decision # 121548 and affirming that decision on the merits.¹ On November 2, 2024, claimant filed applications for review of Orders No. 24-UI-271408 and 24-UI-271423 with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

Pursuant to OAR 471-041-0095 (October 29, 2006), EAB consolidated its review of Orders No. 24-UI-271408 and 24-UI-271423. For case-tracking purposes, this decision is being issued in duplicate (EAB Decisions 2024-EAB-0773 and 2024-EAB-0774).

EAB considered the entire consolidated hearing record. EAB agrees with the portion of Order No. 24-UI-271423 allowing claimant's late request for hearing on decision # 121548. Pursuant to ORS 657.275(2), that portion of Order No. 24-UI-271423 is adopted.

WRITTEN ARGUMENT: EAB considered claimant’s argument in reaching this decision.

FINDINGS OF FACT: (1) Decision # 92922, mailed to claimant’s address of record on file with the Department on May 21, 2021, stated, “You have the right to appeal this decision if you do not believe it is correct. Your request for appeal must be received no later than June 10, 2021.” Order No. 24-UI-271408 Exhibit 1 at 2. Decision # 92922 also stated, “If you were paid benefits for any week covered by this decision, you may have to pay us back. You’ll get information about how much you owe and how to pay us back after the appeal period.” Order No. 24-UI-271408 Exhibit 1 at 2. Claimant received decision # 92922 shortly after it was mailed.

(2) Decision # 121548, mailed to claimant’s address of record on file with the Department on March 31, 2022, stated, “[Y]ou have the right to appeal this decision. Any appeal from this decision must be filed on or before April 20, 2022, to be timely.” Order No. 24-UI-271423 Exhibit 1 at 3. Claimant received decision # 121548 shortly after it was mailed.

(3) On April 12, 2022, claimant filed a request to waive recovery of the overpayment assessed in decision # 121548. On April 19, 2022, claimant spoke with a Department representative who advised that the waiver had been granted as to FPUC benefits but that they did not find a request to waive recovery of regular UI benefits on file. The representative’s notes of the conversation stated, in relevant part, “Her appeal/wavier is due 4/20/22[.] Let clmnt know late waiver is better than no waiver and I will have waiver mailed out[.]”² From this conversation, claimant mistakenly believed that she could not pursue both a waiver and an appeal simultaneously. Claimant again sent a regular UI overpayment waiver request.

(4) On August 30, 2022, the Department issued an amended administrative decision denying claimant’s request to waive recovery of the FPUC overpayment. On September 6, 2022, claimant spoke with a Department representative who explained the FPUC waiver denial decision and advised that they had not received her regular UI overpayment waiver request.

(5) On September 9, 2022, claimant again spoke with a Department representative and inquired about her ability to appeal decision # 121548. That day, claimant filed a late request for hearing that was construed to apply to both decisions # 92922 and 121548.

(6) On August 19, 2024, the Department issued decision # L0005590731, granting claimant’s request to waive recovery of $1,152 of overpaid regular UI benefits and denying claimant’s request to waive recovery of $900 of overpaid FPUC benefits. Claimant filed a request for hearing. After the hearing, ALJ Frank issued Order No. 24-UI-271427, which modified decision # L0005590731 by additionally granting the FPUC waiver.³

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: Claimant’s late request for hearing on decision # 92922 is allowed and a hearing on the merits of that decision is required. Order No. 24-UI-271423 is set aside and the matter remanded for further proceedings.

Late request for hearing. ORS 657.269 provides that the Department’s decisions become final unless a party files a request for hearing within 20 days after the date the decision is mailed. ORS 657.875 provides that the 20-day deadline may be extended a “reasonable time” upon a showing of “good cause.” OAR 471-040-0010 (February 10, 2012) provides that “good cause” includes factors beyond an applicant’s reasonable control or an excusable mistake, and defines “reasonable time” as seven days after those factors ceased to exist.

The request for hearing on decision # 92922 was due by June 10, 2021. Because claimant’s request for hearing was filed on September 9, 2022, the request was late. Claimant testified that she had attempted to file a request for hearing on decision # 92922 prior to the September 9, 2022, request, but could not recall the date or other specifics of any earlier request. Order No. 24-UI-271408, Audio Record at 5:35, 7:40, 8:55. Further, claimant’s testimony suggested that she may have been referring to a request for waiver of recovery of overpayment rather than a request for hearing on decision # 92922 when discussing possible earlier filings. The record therefore does not show that, more likely than not, claimant filed or attempted to file a request for hearing on decision # 92922 by the June 10, 2021, deadline.

The order under review concluded that claimant failed to show that a circumstance beyond her reasonable control or an excusable mistake prevented timely filing of the request for hearing. Order No. 24-UI-271408 at 3. The record does not support this conclusion. Claimant sought waiver or appeal of the overpayment that resulted from decision # 92922 shortly after the overpayment was assessed. Given that claimant promptly took action to address the overpayment by filing a waiver request, it can reasonably be inferred that claimant’s decision not to timely request a hearing on decision # 92922 was based, at least in part, on the failure of decision # 92922 to state that the specific consequence of failing to appeal would be liability to repay an overpayment totaling $2,052. Stating simply that claimant “may have to pay [the Department] back” an undisclosed amount of benefits was insufficient to satisfy claimant’s right to due process under the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution by providing enough information for claimant to decide whether she should appeal decision # 92922.⁴ Therefore, claimant’s mistake in failing to timely request a hearing was excusable, and good cause to extend the filing deadline has been shown.

The record shows that claimant was notified of the specific consequence of failing to appeal decision # 92922 when she received decision # 121548, sometime between March 31, 2022, and April 12, 2022. On April 12, 2022, claimant filed a request to waive recovery of the overpayment. However, claimant testified that she was unaware that she could pursue both a waiver and appeal of the overpayment. Order No. 24-UI-271423 Audio Record at 14:49. It can reasonably be inferred from this that claimant was also basis of the objection in writing, within ten days of our mailing this decision. OAR 471-041-0090(2). Unless such objection is received and sustained, the noticed facts will remain in the record.

unaware of her right to file a late request for hearing on decision # 92922 while pursuing the waiver. Claimant was then given inaccurate information about the status of her waiver request on April 19, 2022, leading her to believe that the request was partially granted and partially under consideration. This continued through August 30, 2022, when the Department issued an administrative decision denying claimant's waiver request as to the overpaid FPUC benefits, and through a September 6, 2022, conversation with a Department representative wherein claimant was advised to continue pursuing the waiver. On September 9, 2022, claimant was advised of her right to file a late request for hearing on decision # 121548, which she did that day, and it was construed as also applying to decision # 92922. It was only at this time that the factors that prevented timely filing ended. Because claimant's late request for hearing on decision # 92922 was filed the same day, it was filed within a "reasonable time." Accordingly, claimant's late request for hearing on decision # 92922 is allowed, and a hearing on the merits is required.

Overpayment. Order No. 24-UI-271423 concluded that claimant was overpaid $2,052 in combined regular UI and FPUC benefits "[a]s a matter of law" based on the finality of decision # 92922. Order No. 24-UI-271423 at 5. Because claimant's appeal of decision # 92922 is remanded for a hearing on the merits, claimant's entitlement to the benefits at issue in decision # 121548 has yet to be determined. Accordingly, Order No. 24-UI-271423 is also set aside and the matter remanded for a hearing on the merits of decision # 121548.⁵

DECISION: Orders No. 24-UI-271408 and 24-UI-271423 are set aside, and these matters remanded for further proceedings consistent with this order.
