

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS BOARD DECISION
2025-EAB-0144

Application for Review Dismissed
No Justiciable Controversy

PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND FINDINGS OF FACT: On November 26, 2024, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of an administrative decision concluding claimant quit working for the employer without good cause and was disqualified from receiving benefits from November 3, 2024, to November 1, 2025 (decision # L0007401099).¹ Claimant filed a timely request for hearing. On February 12, 2025, ALJ Bender conducted a hearing, and on February 19, 2025, issued Order No. 25-UI-283454, reversing decision # L0007401099 by concluding that claimant was discharged by the employer, but not for misconduct, and was not disqualified from receiving benefits based on the work separation. On March 4, 2025, claimant filed an application for review with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

WRITTEN ARGUMENT: Claimant did not state that he provided a copy of his argument to the employer as required by OAR 471-041-0080(2)(a) (May 13, 2019). The argument also contained information that was not part of the hearing record and did not show that factors or circumstances beyond claimant's reasonable control prevented him from offering the information during the hearing as required by OAR 471-041-0090 (May 13, 2019). EAB considered only information received into evidence at the hearing. See ORS 657.275(2).

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: Claimant's application for review of Order No. 25-UI-283454 presents no justiciable controversy and is dismissed.

On March 4, 2025, claimant filed with EAB an application for review of an order that was fully favorable to claimant. Oregon courts follow the principle that a review on appeal may only be provided for justiciable controversies. See, e.g., Gortmaker v. Seaton, 252 Or. 440, 442, 450 P.2d 547 (1969). A justiciable controversy exists when the interests of the parties to the action conflict with each other, and the appeal will have some practical effect on the rights of the parties to the controversy. Barcik v. Kubiacyk, 321 Or 174, 895 P2d 765 (1995). To show a practical effect on their rights, an appellant must seek “substantive relief” through their appeal. Krisor v. Henry, 256 Or. App. 56, 300 P.3d 199 (Or. Ct. App. 2013).

Order No. 25-UI-283454 concluded that claimant was discharged by the employer, but not for misconduct, and was not disqualified from receiving benefits based on the work separation. Claimant did not assign error to any portion of Order No. 25-UI-283454, did not request reversal of any portion of the order, and alleged no facts entitling claimant to further relief in this matter. Because EAB’s review of this matter could not provide substantive relief to the appellant, such review would have no practical effect on the appellant’s rights. Accordingly, there is no justiciable controversy before EAB based upon claimant’s application for review. Because the case before EAB presents no justiciable controversy, the application for review of Order No. 25-UI-283454 is dismissed and Order No. 25-UI-283454 remains undisturbed.

DECISION: The application for review filed March 4, 2025 is dismissed. Order No. 25-UI-283454 remains undisturbed.
