Claims Timely for Weeks 38-25 through 01-26*

PROCEDURAL HISTORY: From February 20 through 26, 2026, the Oregon Employment Department (the Department) served notice of 17 administrative decisions concluding, with respect to one benefit week per decision, that claimant filed late claims for unemployment insurance benefits for the weeks of September 14, 2025 through January 10, 2026 (weeks 38-25 through 01-26), and was therefore ineligible to receive benefits for each week (in chronological order by benefit week): decisions # L0016082636, L0016198970, L0016122536, L0016178275, L0016127564, L0016166557, L0016121939, L0016146341, L0016208000, L0016186063, L0016220611, L0016190670, L0016283713, L0016189855, L0016315504, L0016204142, and L0016293804. Claimant filed a timely request for hearing on each decision.

On April 14, 2026, ALJ S. Lee conducted a consolidated hearing, and on April 21, 2026 issued Orders No. 26-UI-327791, 26-UI-327811, 26-UI-327826, 26-UI-327793, 26-UI-327837, 26-UI-327816, 26-UI-327833, 26-UI-327808, 26-UI-327829, 26-UI-327835, 26-UI-327819, 26-UI-327821, 26-UI-327806, 26-UI-327804, 26-UI-327802, 26-UI-327817, and 26-UI-327824, affirming decisions # L0016082636, L0016198970, L0016122536, L0016178275, L0016127564, L0016166557, L0016121939, L0016146341, L0016208000, L0016186063, L0016220611, L0016190670, L0016283713, L0016189855, L0016315504, L0016204142, and L0016293804, respectively. On May 7, 2026, claimant filed an application for review of each order with the Employment Appeals Board (EAB).

EAB combined its review of Orders No. 26-UI-327791, 26-UI-327811, 26-UI-327826, 26-UI-327793, 26-UI-327837, 26-UI-327816, 26-UI-327833, 26-UI-327808, 26-UI-327829, 26-UI-327835, 26-UI-327819, 26-UI-327821, 26-UI-327806, 26-UI-327804, 26-UI-327802, 26-UI-327817, and 26-UI-327824 under OAR 471-041-0095 (October 29, 2006). For case-tracking purposes, 17 identical copies of this decision are being issued (EAB Decisions 2026-EAB-0450, 2026-EAB-0446, 2026-EAB-0454, 2026-EAB-0441, 2026-EAB-0460, 2026-EAB-0447, 2026-EAB-0456, 2026-EAB-0445, 2026-EAB-

FINDINGS OF FACT: (1) On July 2, 2025, claimant filed an initial claim for unemployment insurance benefits that the Department determined was monetarily valid.

(2) On August 11, 2025, the Department issued an administrative decision concluding that claimant was disqualified from receiving benefits based on a work separation.

(3) On August 12, 2025, claimant went to a WorkSource office for assistance with her claim, and spoke with a Department representative. Claimant told the representative that she had severe dyslexia and was unable to read and understand correspondence from the Department, or file claims in writing or online. The representative told claimant about the work separation administrative decision and helped her file a request for hearing on it, but did not read or otherwise explain to claimant the advisement written on the decision stating that she must continue making weekly claims while the appeal was pending. To accommodate her difficulty reading, claimant was advised to file weekly claims by phone and to seek assistance by phone or at a WorkSource office.

(4) On approximately August 24, 2025, claimant attempted to file a continued claim by phone for the week of August 17 through 23, 2025 (week 34-25), but the system told her that she was unable to claim that week and ended the call. Claimant believed that her pending appeal was preventing her from filing the weekly claim, and that she could later file late claims if the appeal was resolved in her favor. Claimant therefore did not attempt to file claims for several months. Claimant also began part-time employment in September 2025, and for that additional reason did not file weekly claims because she believed that such employment made her ineligible for benefits.

(5) On January 14, 2026, the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) issued an order reversing the work separation administrative decision, concluding that claimant was not disqualified from receiving benefits based on the work separation.

(6) On January 22, 2026, claimant spoke with a Department representative by phone, requesting to file weekly claims for the period her appeal had been pending. The representative filed a claim for the week of August 17 through 23, 2025 (week 34-25) on claimant's behalf.

(7) On January 27, 2026, a representative filed claims for the weeks of August 24 through September 13, 2025 (weeks 35-25 through 37-25) on claimant's behalf.

(8) On January 29, 2026, claimant called the Department and requested that the adjudicator speak with her by phone to obtain the requested information, due to claimant's limitations in reading and writing. Claimant was advised to go to a WorkSource office for assistance, as the adjudicator might not call her back. Claimant did not receive a call from the adjudicator and did not provide a written response to the request for information due to limitations posed by her disability.

(9) On February 10, 2026, an adjudicator sent claimant an online message stating, "I've instructed you to go to WorkSource Oregon office and seek assistance in getting your work search activities completed."

However, after multiple attempts asking you, you've refused to complete the task.<sup>1</sup> You can appeal their denials on the weeks if you'd like. I hope [sic] you the best of luck in your appeals on the issue, and I've tried to help you in every way possible." Transcript at 30.

(10) On February 11, 2026, a Department representative filed continued claims for the weeks of September 14, 2025 through January 10, 2026 (weeks 38-25 through 01-26) on claimant's behalf. These are the weeks at issue.<sup>2</sup> The Department did not pay claimant benefits for the weeks at issue.

CONCLUSIONS AND REASONS: Claimant's continued claims for weeks 38-25 through 01-26 are considered timely.

ORS 657.155(1)(b) provides that an unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the individual has made a claim for benefits with respect to such week in accordance with ORS 657.260. ORS 657.260(1) provides that claims for benefits shall be filed in accordance with such regulations as the Department may prescribe. OAR 471-030-0045 (January 11, 2018) provides, in relevant part:

(1) As used in these rules, unless the context requires otherwise:

(a) "Continued Claim" means an application that certifies to the claimant's completion of one or more weeks of unemployment and to the claimant's status during these weeks. The certification may request benefits, waiting week credit, or non-compensable credit for such week or weeks. A continued claim must follow the first effective week of an initial, additional or reopen claim, or the claimant's continued claim for the preceding week;

* * *

(2) A claimant, in order to obtain benefits, waiting week credit, or non-compensable credit for a week of unemployment, must file a continued claim for the week by any method approved by the Director.

* * *

(4) A continued claim must be filed no later than seven days following the end of the week for which benefits, waiting week credit, or noncompensable credit, or any combination of the foregoing is claimed, unless:

(a) The continued claim is for the first effective week of the benefit year, in which case the week must be claimed no later than 13 days following the end of the week for which waiting week credit is claimed, or

<sup>1</sup> The Department's representative at hearing suggested that the message was sent in reference to both "work search activities" and the questionnaires regarding the late continued claims for weeks 34-25 through 37-25. See Transcript at 29-30.

(5) The Director may, with respect to individual claimants or groups of claimants, direct that continued claims be filed on any reporting schedule appropriate to existing facilities and conditions.

Claimant's continued claims for weeks 38-25 through 01-26 were filed on February 11, 2026, more than seven days after the end of each of those weeks. The record suggests that the earliest date claimant attempted to file any of these claims was January 22, 2026, after she learned that her appeal of a work separation disqualification had been successful. However, January 22, 2026 was also more than seven days after the end of each of the weeks at issue. The orders under review concluded that claimant's failure to file each of the continued claims at issue within seven days of the end of the week claimed resulted from claimant's "fundamental misunderstanding" of unemployment insurance procedures and policies, and that the Department had "no authority" to backdate a continued claim more than seven days after the end of the benefit week. See, e.g., Order No. 26-UI-327793 at 3. The record does not fully support these conclusions.

OAR 471-030-0045(4) requires continued claims, except a claim for the first effective week of the benefit year, to be filed within seven days after the end of the week claimed, and does not provide for backdating of such claims. However, OAR 471-030-0045(5) permits the Department to modify claim filing schedules for individual claimants "appropriate to existing facilities and conditions." In practice, the Department evaluates continued claims filed after the seven-day deadline for Department-related barriers to timely filing and considers the claim timely if such a barrier existed. Transcript at 8. Examples of these barriers include "errors tied directly to Frances [Online]" or the inability to file a continued claim online or through the phone filing system due to the need for a representative to first restart the claim. Transcript at 8. It is therefore appropriate to consider whether claimant faced Department-related barriers to timely filing that would justify a modified filing schedule under OAR 471-030-0045(5).

The record shows that claimant stopped filing continued claims after an August 12, 2025 conversation with a Department representative regarding a work separation disqualification that claimant appealed that day with the representative's assistance. Claimant told the representative that she was unable to read or understand written correspondence due to a disability and requested accommodation from the Department. The representative suggested in response that claimant thereafter file continued claims each week by phone. Claimant believed that this was advice regarding only the method of filing, and not an explanation of filing rules or deadlines, such as the requirement that a claimant file timely continued claims while an appeal is pending, which was not specifically mentioned by the representative. Claimant testified that she assumed that this representative, aware of her need for accommodation related to her inability to read, had provided her with all relevant information contained within the work separation administrative decision that the representative explained to her and assisted her with appealing. See, e.g., Transcript at 50 ("I thought they were of knowledge each week [of the pending work separation appeal]. I didn't know that I had to keep on opening a claim each week I was denied. I was not of knowledge of that until January when they told me that."). Claimant's testimony implied that she believed the representative, aware of her need for accommodation related to her inability to read, had provided her with all relevant information contained within the work separation administrative decision that the representative explained to her and assisted her with appealing. Therefore, on or around August 24, 2025, when claimant attempted to file a continued claim by phone and the system would not let her do so, she mistakenly assumed that it was due to her pending appeal and did not immediately seek further assistance, planning to file the claims later if her appeal was successful.<sup>3</sup> On January 22, 2026, approximately one week after claimant prevailed in the work separation appeal, she contacted the Department requesting to file continued claims for the weeks the appeal had been pending. Continued claims for the weeks at issue were filed on February 11, 2026.

Claimant did not attempt to file any of the continued claims for the weeks at issue by the seven-day deadline for doing so, due to the phone filing system telling her in August 2025 that she was unable to file a continued claim, which led her to mistakenly believe that the reason was her pending work separation appeal, and that she could not file further continued claims unless and until she prevailed in that appeal. Due to a disability, claimant was unable to read the work separation administrative decision herself, including its admonition that she must file timely continued claims while the appeal was pending. Claimant therefore relied on a Department representative to explain the contents of that administrative decision to her, and that explanation was either inadequately conveyed to her, or not conveyed at all. As the Department was aware at that time of claimant's need for accommodation, it bears responsibility for claimant not being adequately informed regarding filing requirements while her appeal was pending. Claimant therefore faced a Department-related barrier to filing claims for the weeks at issue that would justify use of the Department's OAR 471-030-0045(5) authority.

Although the Department appeared willing to consider evidence of barriers to filing for the four benefit weeks immediately preceding the weeks at issue, it refused her accommodation request to obtain the "barrier" questionnaire information from her by phone. Perhaps because claimant gave no written questionnaire responses regarding those four weeks, the Department did not seek information regarding whether claimant faced barriers to filing for the weeks at issue. Nonetheless, such a barrier to filing existed with respect to each of the weeks at issue, and the Department should have modified claimant's claim filing schedule accordingly, such that the continued claims filed on February 11, 2026 were considered timely. Accordingly, under OAR 471-030-0045(5), claimant's continued claims for the weeks of September 14, 2025 through January 10, 2026 (weeks 38-25 through 01-26) are considered timely, and claimant is eligible to receive benefits for those weeks if all other eligibility requirements are met.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>3</sup> Claimant suggested at hearing that obtaining part-time work in September 2025 also factored into the decision not to attempt to file some continued claims around that time. Transcript at 28. However, this reason was secondary to claimant's mistaken belief that her pending work separation appeal was preventing her from filing continued claims, which was the primary reason she did not attempt to file continued claims for the weeks at issue.

<sup>4</sup> Claimant has other appeals pending before EAB that are addressed in separate decisions.
